✉ jon.pyke@rgh-global.com

Jonathan is a seasoned environmental engineer with over 30 years of experience in environmental assessments and infrastructure planning across Britain and East Asia. With a master's degree from the University of Hong Kong in Corporate Environmental Governance, he offers expert technical advice and support for town and country planning, alongside local government engagement in environmental protection.

In corporate sustainability, Jonathan focuses on creating balanced plans for social, environmental, and economic impact. His expertise spans social and environmental performance appraisals, green design advice, and project delivery enhancement.

Jonathan's collaborative approach involves partnering with clients at both executive and project management levels, working closely with planning and design teams to ensure successful outcomes.
